HAVE tried Tongaline, in almost intractable tie-dolorous of two years' standing. I find that more relief has been given and a longer interval from pain from Tongaline than from all else that she has taken.—J. A. Larrabee, M. D., Louisville, Ky.

If a well be poisoned, woe be to those who drink thereof. It is worse to poison the fountain of life, for one's self and for posterity. Often by carelessness, or misfortune, or inheritance, this has been done. Ayer's Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood, and restores health.

RESERVED SEATS.

Reserved seats for the Tourists can be secured to-day at J. C. Peor & Co.'s drug store.

RUNYON & Hooker are in daily receipt of new seasonable dry goods, Kentucky jeans, flannels, blankets, jerseys in large variety, new prints, domestics, all at the lowest prices in the city.

ALBERT GREENWOOD proprietor of the paint store in Zweigert's Block, put in two large plate glass windows last week, one at Henry Ott's furniture store, and the other at J. Lums Wood's drug store. The former was 88 by 122 inches and the latter 64 by 104 inches in size.

YONGE man, if you haven't the courage to ask the young lady to take your arm don't size her by the wing and walk her along as though you were a policeman and had her in custody. It looks bad; besides, she may have just been vaccinated.—[Interior Journal.]

THE Grooved Picket Fence Company has been organized at Lexington with a capital stock of $12,000. Their factory will start up this week. They will turn out two hundred and fifty rods of fence a day, and already have enough orders to keep the factory running one month.

No other medicine is so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for coughs, colds, and all derangements of the respiratory organs tending toward consumption. In all ordinary cases it is a certain cure, and it affords some relief for the asthmatic and consumptive, even in advance stages of disease.

THE Tourist Company arrived in town Saturday evening, and are stopping at the European. We had the pleasure of making a short call last evening and were regaled with some vocal and instrumental music that was really excellent, and far above the average. No doubt they are a clever set of people.

THE revival services in the Christian Church are still in progress. The audience last night was one of the largest that has attended since the meeting was begun. At the close of the sermon there were four additions to the church. Preaching again this afternoon at 3 o'clock, and this evening at 7:15 o'clock.

AT the latter service, Elder Hawkins will preach from the text, "Is there a hell?"

DEATH OF Mrs. Jane Taylor.

WE are again called upon to chronicle the death of one of our old and highly respected citizens. Mrs. Jane Taylor, widow of the late Harrison Taylor, died at her home on West Second street last night at 10 o'clock, after a lingering illness. She was a lady of most estimable character, and was beloved by a large circle of friends, who will regret to hear of her death.

THE Ashland Express, in speaking of the felony bill for gamblers, says: "The bill is intended to reach a class of men who are a pest and a nuisance to every community in which they are found. They are always ready to take in and rob the unwary and all who come within their reach. It matters not with them how many homes are made desolate and robbed by them, so they can make money. Hundreds and thousands of our young men have been ruined through the instrumentality of these accursed houses found almost in every community in the State."

SAM JONES' Views on Sectarianism.

IN one of his sermons at Cincinnati recently, Sam Jones said:

"God bless the grand old Presbyterian Church. She is a power. And when you get Methodist fire and Baptist water and a Presbyterian engine, hold on to what you have got. Methodist fire and Baptist water make steam, and Presbyterianism keeps you rolling."

"I have not said since I was here a sectarian utterance. If I thought there was a drop of sectarian taint in my blood I would put the lancet in and let the stuff out of me. I never was immersed, but my wife was and we take on both elements. One of my best friends belongs to the Christian Church, another of my best friends to the Presbyterian, and one to the Lutheran, and I am so tangled up with these people that I can't help but love them all."

PASS THIS Along.

A friend writes us from Felicity, Ohio, that Harry S. Hill, who was arrested at Mayville for bigamy, is one of the grandest soundmen on earth. He says that Hill came there a tramp several years ago, and inaugurated a series of temperance lectures, and made a big hit. He was supported and treated to and made a fool of by the women, and he at once went to making. He courted several of the best girls of Felicity and Batavia, and finally married one at Felicity worth something over $6,000. He wasn't long in inducing her to sell her land, and soon spent it all in gambling and riotous living. Finally he moved to Oatlandsburg, where he deserted her and several children, and is now traveling with the Lums Wood, as her husband, while she gives elocutionary entertainments.—[Bourbon News.]
